About the Roster

Crucial to the stability of both the Hadovean Empire and the Kingdom of Geldheim is the fealty of a number of Houses within their lands. The term "House" is a generalised term granted by a faction to represent warband, clans, war parties, families of importance and the like.

Houses exist in a variety of forms inside both factions. From large, powerful Houses, with great influence over a number of generations to smaller Houses perhaps just starting out or fallen out of favour in some way. The houses in this roster represent some of smaller Houses aligned to their faction. Their greater faction influence and might is yet to flourish, only time will tell if they will someday rise as equals to the great Houses of Ashnoor.
